From the President . . .

I hope you are all ready to submit your artwork at the Annual Sun City Fine Art Show coming up this month. An important date to remember is February 6 from 3 PM to 5 PM when you can submit up to 3 paintings. Information about the show and submission forms are available in the club room.

Our first Gallery Reception was a success and I have invited the Weavers club to participate at the next reception in April. I hope to have our whole floor hopping by October. We had a great day at the recent Discover Sun City. My thanks to Bruce Cody and Ruth Little for lending us a painting for display and Teala Willette and Allison Killam who drew and painted at our table. We had a drawing class going on during the event and Ruth was kind enough to allow me to send some prospective new members over to quietly watch as well as enjoy our art gallery. In the coming months you may be seeing little notices pop up on our website or receive messages from the club. We hope to take advantage of open slots on our calendar to hold little classes such as using the website, new members' orientation sessions and equipment locations and usage. If you have suggestions for improving our club you can email me at president@paloverdeartists.com.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Artist of the Month

Josh Thompson

Originally from Pontiac, Illinois, Mr. Thompson earned a bachelor's degree in US History at Purdue University. After two years working for his family's business, he became a bank examiner for the State of Illinois. After almost seven years in that job and two years with the FDIC, Mr. Thompson held a variety of positions in community banking for twenty-five years. Josh was married for 33 years to Adaire, who passed away in 2013. He has two children, one in Illinois, and one in Arizona.

Mr. Thompson has experimented with pen and ink, watercolor, and mixed media using colored pens and inks, and has attended classes with instructors Jack Hampton and Aileen Garvey. His more recent paintings have been primarily landscapes and abstracts. One of his greatest pleasures is to travel to various Arizona sites to photograph subjects for future paintings. Mr. Thompson has won numerous awards in local exhibitions, including a first-place ribbon at the Sun City Fine Art Show and Sale. He has had his work exhibited at Surprise City Hall, in the juried Avondale Art Showcase, and in the juried Celebration of Artists sponsored by the West Valley Art Museum (WVAM). Two of Mr. Thompson's paintings were juried into the new artist gallery at the Sedona Arts Festival. In 2018, he was admitted to Faith Through The Arts (FTTA), an artistic ministry at the St. John The Baptist in Glendale, and had a one-man showing of his work at their exhibition area in their Fellowship Hall. Mr. Thompson was juried in as a member of the Vanguard Artists group in January 2019.
